

THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 18.

EXCELLENT ADVICE.—It is injudicious, needless, rash, to risk everything upon one crop. The true policy is to diversify crops, so that if one fails others may make up the deficiency. Not only should every Virginia farmer at this period of trouble, especially wheat, oats, corn, tobacco, but he should pay attention to clover and hay, and should raise as large root and gumming crops as possible—potatoes, sweet and Irish, peas, beans and turnips. He should enlarge his garden and raise all the vegetables that he can, and give to his orchard particular attention. Those living on water, thoroughfares, and within reach of railroad facilities, can read all their surplus productions to market. Those in the interior, and cut off from transportation facilities, can feed their swine, cattle, hogs, sheep, calves, and poultry even. They can and should raise all kinds of stock and fowl. They can sell them when they cannot sell the food on which they rear them and raised.—Rich. Whig.

Insurance.

Mutual Life Ins. Co.,
OF NEW YORK.

Assets over $16,000,000.

To meet the choice of such, prevent or future members as may desire to have the amount insured paid in installments to their widows or heirs, rather than in one sum, this Company is prepared to insert in its policies a clause agreeing that in lieu of the payment of the policy and profits in one sum, an equitable amount to be determined by the Company, may be paid annually or semi-annually for any specified number of years, (say from five to twenty-five years).

EXAMPLE.—Suppose a policy of $10,000, with additions amounting to $5,000 more, should become payable by reason of the death of the person insured, the Company, in lieu of the payment of $15,000 in one sum, may be able to give (assuming interest as realized in the past) an annuity for ten years of over $2,000 per annum, or for twenty years an annuity of over $1,300 per annum.

This form of annuity will remove the anxiety which may exist in the minds of some policy holders lest the future payment of the amount insured should be inefficient or tardy in its operation, either through unsafe investments, unwise expenditure, or other uncertainties incident to contingent trusts.

It is not only free from the ordinary dangers of investment, but its punctual and full payment is secured by the large and varied assets of the Company, and good faith in this institution, which thus to a certain extent, becomes the guardian or trustee of the survivors. Hence the provision may be considered, humanly speaking, beyond any adverse contingency.

All such deferred payments or annuities will share equally in the profits or dividends of the Company.

This Company also issues Survivorship Annuities, which provide for survivors during the whole period of life, and Deferred Annuities, by which individuals may provide for themselves in advanced age.

F. S. WINSTON President.

The undersigned begs to call the attention of those who desire to make provision for their families, to the advantages offered by the above mentioned institution. There is no way in which a small sum of money can be so profitably and securely invested, for such a purpose, as in a policy on our life. Forty-five Cents a week will insure $10,000 on the life of a man aged 30, and the payment of a single premium secured and received very much larger sum than the investment of the same amount could possibly be in the ordinary operation of trade.

The following descriptions of Policies are issued by this Company, the premiums on which may be paid yearly, half-yearly, or quarterly, at the option of the party assured:

1st. LIFE POLICIES. For the whole term of life, payable, together with the dividend additions, after the death of the party assured, to the person entitled to receive the same.

2d. ENDOWMENT ASSURANCE POLICIES. These are issued to persons desirous of making provision for advanced life, or any other purpose, and are payable, together with several dividends, to the same to the assured party, on attaining certain age, say 45, 50, 55, 60 or 65, or in case of his death before arriving at that age, to his heirs or assigns.

3d. ENDOWMENT POLICIES FOR CHILDREN. Payable when a child attains the age of 18, 21 or 25, or upward, either with or without the return of the total premium paid, in case the party assured does not attain the specified age.

4th. SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITY POLICIES. By which an insurer may secure to a surviving spouse, whether wife, parent, or child, the enjoyment of a certain definite and permanent annuity for life, free alike from the dangers and expenses of investing money and from dependence upon persons who may perhaps prove injudicious or adversely interested.

5th. ALL POLICIES issued by this Company participate in the surplus, the whole of which will be distributed to the policy holders in an equitable manner, among the Policy-holders.
